

MASS MEETING TO PROTEST WOMAN'S EXECUTION

SENATE REPORT EXPOSES TITANIC

PLEAS TO SAVE MRS. CUSUMANO

Attitude of Three Members of the Council, to Decide Cusumano Case, Is Doubtful; Mascio Pleads for a Lawyer.

A mass meeting of Boston citizens will be held tonight in Faneuil Hall to protest against the execution of Mrs. Cusumano and Marie Mascio.

The meeting will be held under the auspices of a Cusumano committee which has been organized primarily to protest against the execution of a woman in Massachusetts. The principal speakers will be Attorney Thomas J. Gray, who acts for Mrs. Cusumano; Attorney James H. Vane, who defended Charles J. Barker; Mrs. Frances Spooner, head of the Massachusetts Anti-Death Penalty League; William Brewster, chairman of a prominent appeal of capital punishment; and Jerome J. Pettit, Dr. Joseph H. Hastings will preside at the meeting. The committee will appear before the Governor and Council when the question of Mrs. Cusumano's sentence is decided.

To Visit Mascio.
Justice today, of the Suffolk Superior Court, today, ordered Valerio Mascio, of the State prison to admit Giovanni Di Rosa, counsel to the King of Italy, and Dr. Camillo Saverelli, secretary to the consul and vice-consul of Boston, to visit Mascio in the death cell at the State prison. Mascio and Mrs. Cusumano are awaiting execution for the murder of her husband, Mascolo. He is the alleged accomplice of Mrs. Cusumano. Here is the order of the court.

To the Warden of the State Prison.
Dear Sir:
In accordance with the provisions of chapter 220, section 12, of the revised laws of this Commonwealth, you are ordered to allow Mr. Giovanni Di Rosa, counsel to the King of Italy, and Dr. Camillo Saverelli, secretary to the consul and vice-consul of Boston, to visit Mascio in the death cell at the State prison. Mascio and Mrs. Cusumano are awaiting execution for the murder of her husband, Mascolo. He is the alleged accomplice of Mrs. Cusumano. Here is the order of the court.

Justice of the Superior Court.
This order was delivered to Mr. Saverelli, by John P. Manning, clerk of the Suffolk Superior Court. The order then left for the State prison. Lawyers Gray and Coughlin said this morning that they would visit Mascio this afternoon and after a conference in the Executive Council chamber, they would either attempt to secure a reprieve or else, if that failed, to be called in behalf of the condemned couple.

Allegation to Testify.
Dr. Walter Fernald and Dr. Paul H. Hens were two of the witnesses. They are alleged to have found that Lucy Cusumano, the 31-year-old daughter of the condemned couple, was the accomplice of her mother.

PREDICT CLARK WILL CARRY R. I.

PROVIDENCE, May 28.—With the State-wide Democratic pre-convention conference primary only three days away, Rhode Island is expected to elect Clark by every Democratic leader in the State today.

During the last three days a thorough canvass of the State has revealed a new sentiment for Clark. With this state of affairs, and the inevitable result, he is expected to carry the State by a large margin in the coming of a national convention.

The victory in Rhode Island is pretty much certain. The names of Clark, Wilson, Harman and Underwood appear on the ballot, and the one receiving the largest vote will be supported by the delegation.

The delegates to the Democratic National Convention are expected to be as follows: Clark, Wilson, Harman, Underwood, Harr, Davis, I. Berry, Hamilton, H. B. Woodruff, C. H. McLean, James M. McCreary, James H. Brown, and William R. C. Brown. These are the names which will be entered on the ballot.

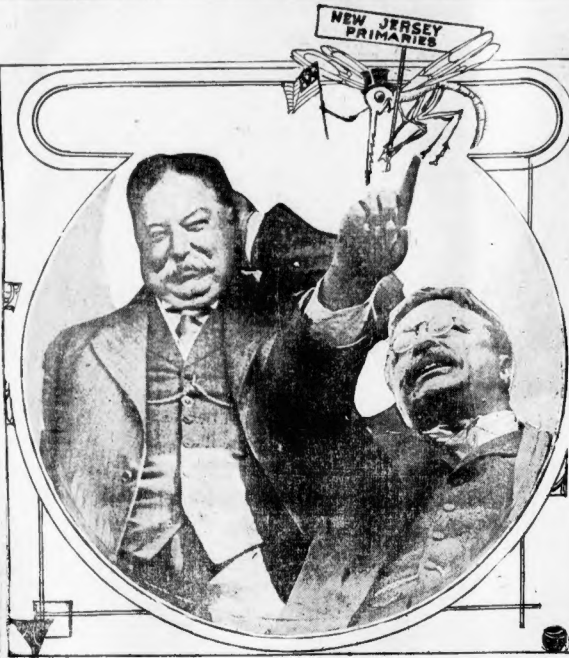

Girls in their teens should not be pale, languid, constantly fatigued. Nature intended them to be bright, energetic and active.

Every parent of a growing girl, and every young woman who looks after herself, should be constantly on the watch for symptoms of impoverished blood. The happiness of a lifetime depends upon giving the blood the help it needs at this time, when girls are too frequently allowed to over-study, overwork or suffer from lack of exercise.

If your daughter is languid, has a pale, sallow complexion, is short of breath, especially on going upstairs, has palpitation of the heart, a tendency to faint and a poor appetite, she suffers from lack of blood. The most satisfactory way to give the blood the elements which it lacks is by using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A thorough trial will make the blood pure and red.

"Two bottles, 'Pale Tints on Women' and 'Building Up the Blood,' will be sent free upon request. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price, or money paid for cash order, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y."

Turkey Trot Costs 16 Girls Their Positions

Editorial Board Displaced by Employees' Conduct Right in Ladies' Home Journal Building.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—The Curtis Publishing Company is warning the services of sixteen young women, who so far forgot the proprieties and rules of the newspaper to engage in the "Turkey Trot" in the third floor of the Ladies' Home Journal Building.

They were discovered engaged in the reprehensible specialty, much to the dismay of Edward Bok, who happened to be passing at the time. He informed the superintendent of that department that the company could dispense with the services of the girls who could so far forget themselves as to engage in such dances, even among their own number.

The girls regard Mr. Bok's action as not only an intrusion, but an attack upon their personal privileges, and some of the young women say they intend to ask Mr. Curtis to retract them.

SHAW READY FOR HIS TRIAL

The trial of Arthur W. Shaw, president of the A. W. Shaw Shoe Company of Providence, R. I., who is under indictment for the robbery of $10,000 from the company, begins tomorrow in the Federal Superior Court.

With him will be tried Mrs. George Mary Stuart, indicted for complicity in the alleged thefts and for receiving stolen funds. Shaw's life story is a remarkable narrative. The man's life is a model citizen, the person of the town of Providence and the head of a respected family, together with his friendship with Mrs. Stuart for a long time.

Not the least fascinating chapter of the long story is that which tells how, when Shaw found himself in Los Angeles, later when he came to Mrs. Stuart, and which was disclosed in the published statement of the AMERICAN, gave his officers and family a picture of the police in that city and how he was brought back to trial.

Both Shaw and Mrs. Stuart are out on bail. Shaw's bail is fixed at $5,000. Mrs. Stuart turned over to Charles E. Bancroft, receiver of the A. W. Shaw corporation, $10,000 worth of securities upon the advice of the court, after the charges against her were made public.

The first list of the alleged delinquencies came in the form of a letter from Shaw himself. This letter was received early in February by J. W. Amick, treasurer of the Shaw shoe factory. In that letter Shaw confessed to thefts from the company and declared it his intention to commit suicide by jumping overboard from a steamer in mid-ocean.

Amick, a creditor, received an examination of the books of the company shortly after Shaw's letter, and set out a list of alleged larceny to be disclosed. The list which Shaw wrote in to him is as follows:

New York, Feb. 1.
Friend Amick:—It is all over but the quack. I must confess that for several years I have been in a state of mind, and living by turns. I had a great deal of money and a half a life I devoted to something like $200,000 and had the goods. Then, all of a sudden, I wanted $100,000, and the whole is now gone. I have used the money of the firm.

My contrition is gone, so I shall end it all. When you get this, I shall be on my way. I have only enough left for a tramp steamer. I like Europe, but you know a paper in Europe is up against it. So, I have decided to pass over the water. We have never seen, and never will see, again, adieu. Yours, A. W. SHAW.

Some Whiffs From the Passing Baseball Breeze

RILEY'S COLUMN

JACK RILEY expects to play baseball again this week. Jake's ankle is in shape again, but he will nurse it along until he feels sure that he can stick when he returns. He may not play until Saturday, but he hopes to be at work by Memorial Day.

THE Red Sox need Jake on the field to keep them gingered up and busy all the time. They won five out of six games last week, but they played with two games Saturday and Sunday and gingered, united playing from start to finish was lacking.

HUGH BRADLEY has played Jake's place better than most substitutes would, but Hugh is far from a championship baseball player yet. Probably he has not yet had enough continued experience. He does not hit with the best of judgment, he fields cleanly and sometimes remarkably, but not yet with sufficient finish, and yesterday when Lewis should have scored on Wagner's sacrifice fly to Murphy he ran off first base away, past second, being nearly doubled and preventing a Red Sox score. Bradley blamed the man on the coaching line. When the crowd roared, Hugh remembered sorrowfully the cheers they gave him when he won that game with his first home run.

HUGH is eager and a plodder all the time, though, and with experience dropping it into his hands, and proper coaching of himself, he will fit into his place. The Red Sox were lucky to have him ready to step into Bradley's shoes.

"BUCK" ORRIS has become an "in" and "out" "Buck" has the ability to catch nearly all of the throws in the American League, but his reputation is not yet made, and he cannot afford to have "old" days for several years yet. With his ability he ought to keep in his position for all of the time, and fight for the record as one more as a "batter."

JACK RILEY, tried pitch hitting yesterday, taking a whack at the ball in the eighth, with no better result than the time, though, and with experience dropping it into his hands, and proper coaching of himself, he will fit into his place. The Red Sox were lucky to have him ready to step into Bradley's shoes.

"DUKE" LEWIS was the only man who found Frank successfully up to the fifth inning, when Mark Spink's ball hit him. Lewis produced a single and a double, but he was out of the game in the eighth, with no better result than the time, though, and with experience dropping it into his hands, and proper coaching of himself, he will fit into his place. The Red Sox were lucky to have him ready to step into Bradley's shoes.
